U.S. To Push Forces For West Europe

Acheson Waits Talks With Ministers Of Western Powers

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP) — Diplomatic officials predicted today that Secretary of State Dean Acheson will press firmly this week to put over plans for a strong build-up of western Europe's defense forces by next July 1.

His arguments will be strengthened greatly, these authorities believe, by President Truman's carefully-timed week-end decision permitting "substantial" U. S. troop reinforcements in Europe and his call for home front sacrifices.

The troop increases—an estimated five to 10 divisions—are expected to be made dependent on matching action by Britain, France and other U. S. allies in the conflict with Russia. Therefore, the western foreign ministers with whom Mr. Acheson will be meeting Tuesday through Saturday are already on notice that America's contributions to their defenses are based on the principle of mutual effort and not on U. S. willingness to assume a disproportionate share of the burden.

The sessions will begin here tomorrow when Mr. Acheson meets with Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Schuman of France. Foreign ministers of the other North Atlantic powers will join in the talks Friday and Saturday.

In Washington today, Mr. Acheson scheduled a meeting with Senate and House foreign relations committee members to explain the policies he intends pursuing. Mr. Bevin and Mr. Schuman are en route to New York by sea and air, respectively.

Mr. Acheson himself set a keynote of confidence for the vital western talks last yesterday. He declared he is sure that with "modern weapons and ingenuity" the western world can build a defense that will stand firm against the superior manpower strength of Soviet Communism.

He hinted—on a television program—that in the meanwhile the United States and its allies have a powerful balancing weapon in U. S. atomic superiority.

50 Stranded Students Will Fly Home Today

PARIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—About 50 of the 180 U. S. students and teachers stranded here and in London for the last week are scheduled to leave by plane for home today.

The students were stranded when the Tiger Airline informed them the travel service sponsoring their trip had not paid their return air passage.

Under an emergency arrangement, the students will pay an additional $165 each to the airline. They will be reimbursed when the line collects the money from the travel service, which already had been paid $355 by each of the students.

Only 14 More Days To Register

TO BE ELIGIBLE to vote in East Liverpool at the Nov. 7 general election, you must register with the Election Board at City Hall 10.

You haven't voted at least once, in a primary, general or special election, in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since voting last; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 by Nov. 7, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio a year and in Columbiana county and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. East Liverpool is the only county subdivision where voter registration is required. The Election Board office is open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Red Big Guns Knocked Out In Hard Duel

TOKYO, Sept. 11 (AP) — Allied and Red big guns and infantry slugged at each other in bitter, close-range fighting today, seven miles north of Taegu.

A fresh Red Korean offensive is expected at any hour. Allied artillery and warplanes hurled showers of steel at Red troops and artillery pieces throughout Monday.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said the American barrage knocked out "a great many" Red big guns.

Considerable action is expected in this area again tonight, a First Cavalry Division spokesman said. About 40,000 Communist troops are massed for attack against the Allied northwest front.

East of this sector, Allied South Korean forces ground ahead in an attack which has secured the defenses of Yongchong, eastern gateway to Taegu.

Elements of the South Korean Eighth Division drove six miles north of the vital Yongchong-Kyongju highway at one point in the northeast sector.

On a third critical area, Allied aircraft mangled a Communist regiment of 3,000 men in the Nakdong River bulge west of Changnyong.

The U. S. Second Division repulsed a sharp Red attack in the bulge. Slashing Allied fighter planes caught the North Koreans in the open as they reeled back from the Doughboy's blows.

This setback, added to previous Red losses, left the battlefield strewn with 1,000 Communist dead and 1,500 to 3,000 wounded, reconnaissance pilots reported.

Farther south, the U. S. 25th Division beat off several light attacks. The 25th counted the day as quiet in comparison with the heavy blows of last week.

Harsh Words Fly In Fight On Red Curbs

McCarran, Kilgore Battle As Senators Wait Tuesday Vote

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Senate battle over curbing the home front Communists went into its final round today and rival senators swapped harsh words concerning the two bills being debated.

These bills are sponsored by Senator McCarran (D) of Nevada and Senator Kilgore (D) of West Virginia.

Mr. McCarran told reporters: "The Kilgore bill is a blueprint for the establishment of a dictatorship of the proletariat in the United States."

A dictatorship of the proletariat is what Communist leaders call the Soviet Russian government.

Mr. Kilgore said in a written statement that the McCarran bill is "a legislative hedgepodge" and "an impractical conglomeration of provisions, many of them patently unconstitutional."

The McCarran bill is far out in front on all dope sheets. It would require the registration of Communist and Communist-front organizations; bar Communists from government jobs and passports; strengthen the anti-sabotage statutes, and put into the immigration and naturalization laws new teeth designed to bar or deport alien subversives.

Burglar Loots Trunk In Absence Of Family

William Richards, 309 East Second St., told police his home was looted of silverware, jewelry and other valuables Saturday night or early Sunday while the family was absent.

The intruder forced a screen door, then broke a lock on a steamer trunk to loot it, Mr. Richards said.

The loss included two gold wrist watches, a gold bracelet, a Walther automatic pistol and holster, a new set of silverware, a clock, slippers, two pairs of shears, three straight razors, a pillow slip and other articles, Mr. Richards reported.

Production Director, Heads Of 21 Plants Meet In Washington

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — President Truman's new war mobilization machinery, geared to a 30-billion-dollar-a-year arms program, began to roll today under a production boss borrowed from industry.

William H. Harrison, president of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., walked into the hot spot as head of a new National Production Authority (NPA) in the Commerce Department.

His first job, after today's swearing-in, was to face the steel industry—the presidents of 21 companies invited here to discuss how to divide steel supplies between booming civilian factories and mushrooming war plants.

This was the first move in a mobilization against Communist aggression which Mr. Truman said Saturday night may last many years and will require sacrifices of every American.

A series of orders is expected to follow. But actual "allocations"—that is, assignments of steel and other materials to particular users—may not begin for weeks.

And civilian goods—autos, television sets, freezers and others—may not be affected for months.

Immediately ahead, perhaps within this week, are:

• Issuance of a scarcity list by Mr. Truman, naming materials in short supply. Steel, copper, rubber and aluminum will be on it.

• An inventory control, or anti-hoarding, order by the NPA. This will make it illegal for business firms or others to amass supplies of the scarce goods beyond a normal working level.

• A priority regulation to compel mines and factories to put defense orders ahead of all others.

In his Saturday night radio and television speech and in executive orders, the President announced a mobilization program involving eight federal agencies. He said defense spending will be doubled — to 30 billion dollars a year — by next June. He demanded much higher taxes.

He created an Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) to hold down inflation.

Emerging at the top of the mobilization program was W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. Mr. Symington will coordinate the efforts of all the agencies and settle policy disputes.

Mr. Truman gave to the Commerce Department the power of allocating most materials. Under this power, Mr. Sawyer last night announced the creation of the National Production Authority and the appointment of Mr. Harrison to head it.

There was no official word on who will head the Economic Stabilization Agency.

G.B.S. Waits Operation After Breaking His Thigh

LUTON, England, Sept. 11 (AP) — George Bernard Shaw, the famous playwright, suffered a broken thigh in a fall in the garden of his country home yesterday and was brought to a hospital here today for an emergency operation.

A hospital spokesman said the 94-year-old author and wit was "very comfortable" and brought with him a small library of books.

Hospital officials indicated he will be operated on later this afternoon or tonight.

No expert opinion on Mr. Shaw's condition was immediately available. But it was agreed a broken thigh at his age could produce dangerous complications.

Mr. Shaw has lived more or less in seclusion at his home in the picturesque village of Ayot St. Lawrence, 40 miles from London. He maintained an apartment in London, which he visited on rare occasions.

His latest dramatic effort, Farfetched Fables, opened last week in London, but produced nothing but critical yawns.

50 To 75 Others Injured As Trains Smack In Ohio

Struck Train Was Running Hour Ahead

Sabotage Discounted By Railway Official; Unable To Cite Cause

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11 (INS) — A Pennsylvania Railroad official said today the troop train involved in the Coshocton railroad disaster was running an hour ahead of time.

J. M. Williamson, Pennsylvania's division operator, said the troop carrier was not due in Coshocton until 10:30 a. m.

Third-Largest Toll In Ohio Rail Wrecks

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11 (AP) — Crash of the Spirit of St. Louis and a troop train near West Lafayette early today took the third-highest death toll in Ohio railroad history.

On Dec. 29, 1876, 84 persons were killed in a railroad accident at Ashtabula. On July 31, 1940, 43 persons died in an accident at Cuyahoga Falls.

Other major accidents and the death toll include March 29, 1915, 28 at Amherst; Dec. 13, 1946, 19 at Guthrie; and Nov. 9, 1941, 12 at Dunkirk.

Jumbos until 7:30 a. m., but probably would have reached the city at 6:30 if it had not been struck from behind.

Mr. Williamson was unable to cite a possible cause of the accident. However, he said that box signals, through which all trains on the Pennsylvania line are operated, apparently were in good working condition at the scene of the accident.

He also discounted any possibility that there might have been sabotage.

Mr. Williamson said the railroad's lines were blocked by the accident. He said other trains scheduled to travel through the area will be rerouted, possibly with a three-to-four-hour delay.

Storm Warnings Up Along Eastern Coast

MIAMI, Sept. 11 (AP) — An aging hurricane skirted the North Carolina coast today, while another storm churned westward in the Atlantic 1,000 miles east of Puerto Rico.

Storm warnings were up from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Cape Ann. Small craft in the area were advised not to venture into open water.

Paweł Ordered Into Court At Cleveland

Emil Paweł of near Lisbon is heading back to court Wednesday—Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick at Cleveland ordered him into Domestic Relations Court there, apparently for further questioning in connection with the divorce from his missing wife, Mrs. Bertha Paweł, 48, disappeared July 15.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Howard Clark Saturday advised Al Corbett, domestic relations court investigator, to conduct his investigation in "an ethical manner."

The warning resulted after complaints from neighbors in the vicinity of Mr. Paweł's farm that Mr. Corbett was annoying them.

A Cleveland couple, operators of a doughnut shop, said a woman resembling Mrs. Paweł appeared in their shop since her disappearance.

Crash Survivors Remained Calm, Captain Reports

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 11 (AP) — "Our men remained calm," an artillery captain said today describing the tragic railroad accident near here. Captain Robert Short of Dallas, Pa., sober-voiced commander of an artillery battery, told how his men "pitched in within seconds" after the accident to remove dead and injured from the wreckage.

Captain Short is commander of Battery A of the 109th Field Artillery Battalion. He said most of the dead and injured were members of Battery B. Headquarters of the battalion is at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Captain Short said he was in the third from the last coach when the Pennsylvania passenger train hit the rear of the troop carrier.

"We were either stopped or slowed down when the crash came," the captain said. He added that most of the men were asleep at the time. None of the members of Battery A riding in the third car was killed or injured, the captain said.

Captain Short said he believes most of the dead and injured were in the last coach occupied by members of Battery B and the service company battery of the battalion.

He reported that Colonel Frank Townsend of Dallas, Pa., commander of the battalion, was in the last car of the troop train, but escaped injury by jumping from the car.

"The men in my car remained calm," the captain said. "After the crash, I told them to stay put until we found out what happened. Within two minutes we all turned out to help the injured and remove them from the smashed car."

The captain said the colonel of the battalion "had everything under control" a short time after the crash, organizing relief parties and throwing out a guard around the scene. Other soldiers were detailed to call for nurses and physicians and make hospital arrangements.

100,000 Battle Mock Attack In West Germany

General Mark Clark Watches Big Drills By Allied Forces

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Atlantic "Big Three" powers put nearly 100,000 troops into the field here today to test their skill at repelling a mock invasion from the east.

High-ranking military observers from all the Atlantic pact nations, including General Mark W. Clark, commander of U. S. field forces, were on hand to see how the U. S., British and French western troops will acquire themselves in the week-long maneuvers.

The test will involve tanks, planes and simulated paratroop drops behind the front lines. A U. S. cavalry regiment is representing a mythical enemy force of some six divisions, striking into western Germany from the Russian zone and Czechoslovakia.

Officials said the maneuvers were planned last winter "long before the Korean fighting began". They described it as routine.

General Clark told reporters he has been directed to report on the combat fitness of American troops when he returns to Washington. He said additional U. S. troops, approved Saturday by President Truman, probably will begin arriving in western Germany soon.

Former Chester Corporal Claimed By Battle Wounds

Corporal Charles Farus, 25, former Chester resident, died Sept. 4 in a Tokyo hospital from head wounds received while fighting in Korea, local relatives were notified today.

The infantryman was wounded Aug. 14 while fighting with the 24th Infantry Regiment.

His family left Chester about 18 years ago. His father formerly was employed at the American Sheet & Tinplate Co. plant and operated a grocery in Lawrenceville.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farus of Malta; five sisters, Mrs. Hazel Householder and Mrs. Mabel Lorenz, both of Chester, Mrs. Edna Nonemacher of Steubenville, Mrs. Ruth Dauge of Columbus, and Mrs. Audrey McDowell of McCallsville; three brothers, Earl Connelville, at home, Fred Farus of New Concord, and Robert Farus of Columbus.

Bad Accident Occurs Near Coshocton

Pennsylvania Guard Members Victims Of Railway Tragedy

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 11 (AP) — The Spirit of St. Louis plowed into a trainload of sleeping soldiers early today. At least 20 of the troops were killed.

An additional 50 or 75, all Pennsylvania National Guardsmen, were injured.

The crash occurred about 6 a. m. on a straight stretch of track just west of West Lafayette, seven miles east of here.

The "Spirit", crack passenger train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, hit the rear of the troop train, carrying approximately 700 Guardsmen en route to Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The last car of the 20-car troop train, also operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad, was smashed and several other cars were telescoped.

Most of the dead, who had just been called into federal service, were sleeping in that rear car. Some were trapped alive and were cut out by rescuers with acetylene torches.

The worst casualties were among Battery B of the 109th Field Artillery of Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard Division. And most of them were from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and vicinity.

First reports indicated no one aboard the 17-car "Spirit" was killed. Its two Diesel locomotives toppled over an embankment.

Physicians, nurses and blood donors were called in from Cambridge, Coshocton, Zanesville and New Philadelphia. The Ohio Highway Patrol sent whole blood to the scene.

The troop train, made up of two baggage cars, 16 coaches and two kitchen cars, left Carlisle, Pa., at 2 p. m. yesterday. Eight of the cars were added at Wilkes-Barre. Two steam locomotives pulled the train.

The Spirit of St. Louis was bound from New York to St. Louis.

2 Autos Damaged In Underpass Collision

Two autos were damaged slightly Saturday at 10 p. m. when they collided at the Yellow Creek underpass south of Wellsville.

The State Highway Patrol at Winterville reported an auto driven by Eva M. Armstrong, 117 East Pine St., Lisbon, was hit by one operated by Henry Gillan of Youngstown as he attempted to back out of the wrong lane of the divided railroad underpass he entered while traveling south on Route 7.

G.O.P. Looks For Sweep As Maine Ballots

7 Other Primaries
Tuesday Also Will Be Watched For Straws

By The Associated Press
Maine voted today in a preview of November's general election and Republicans look for a sweep of the governorship and three house seats.

From seven primaries tomorrow will emerge major party candidates for five Senate and 41 House posts and six governorships.

Governor Frederick G. Paine, Republican seeking re-election in Maine, is counted an almost sure winner over his Democratic opponent, Earl S. Grant, Portland educator, Leland S. Currier, a lumberman running as a states rights Democrat, is expected to get little more than exercise.

Democratic candidates have centered some hot fire on three Republican House members, Representatives Robert Hale, Charles P. Nelson and Frank Fellows. Miss Lucia Corlier, Democratic national committeewoman, is opposing Mr. Hale. John J. Maloney Jr. is after Mr. Nelson's seat and John V. Keenan is challenging Mr. Fellows.

It's been a long drought for the Democrats in Maine, however. They haven't won a major office there since 1934.

New Hampshire's bitter Republican senatorial primary tops the lists of tomorrow's primaries in national interest.

Senator Tobey, who has lined up consistently with the Senate's self-styled Republican liberals, is being pushed hard by Wesley Powell, young war veteran and former administrative assistant to Senator Bridges (R) of New Hampshire.

Mr. Powell has criticized what he calls "Trumanism" on the part of Mr. Tobey, who has said his experience is needed in the Senate.

Emmet J. Kelley, national committeeman, is assured of the Democratic nomination.

In Arizona, Democratic Senator Hayden has a primary battle on his hands from two men named Miller, Cecil H. Miller, Phoenix cattleman, apparently is giving him the most trouble, with Robert E. Miller, Phoenix druggist, contributing a share.

Three senators in other states are certain of renomination in primaries tomorrow. Republican Senators Aiken of Vermont and Millikin of Colorado are counted "in," as in Democratic Senator Magnuson of Washington.

The 17 House seats at stake in Michigan have attracted 51 Republicans and 68 Democratic primary candidates. Democratic Governor G. Mennen Williams is assured renomination. Representative Albert J. Engel and four others are seeking the Republican nomination for governor.

In Minnesota, Governor Luther W. Youngdahl has four opponents in the Republican primary. Eight Democrats are seeking their party's nomination for governor.

Political Firing Grows Louder

Taft Asks G.O.P. Congress To Change 'Weak Course'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Political firing on foreign policy picked up intensity today, with Senator Taft (R) of Ohio calling for the election of a Republican congress to force a change in what he termed the administration's "weak and wavering" course.

Mr. Taft told a reporter before he left Washington to resume campaigning that he intends to stress international issues in telling Ohio voters he believes "there never was a time when we needed a Republican Congress so much."

In Illinois, Senate Democratic Leader Lucas blasted right back at the "isolationist Republicans" and "petty, political snipers" who he said "have been trying to indict their country's leaders on charges of softness toward communism."

"My opponent is one of those who is taking a leading part in this campaign to try to befuddle the American people and undermine the bipartisan foreign policy," Mr. Lucas declared in a Chicago address yesterday. He is opposed by former representative Everett Dirksen, the Republican nominee.

Mr. Lucas said the drive to cripple the Marshall plan and oppose the Atlantic pact and military aid to European allies.

"In their attack on the bipartisan foreign policy, they have repudiated their own party's foreign policy leaders, Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Ambassador John Foster Dulles, and have come perilously close to echoing the line of the Communist Daily Worker," he declared.

Mr. Taft said in an interview here that issues growing out of the Korean war seem to have overshadowed all others in the November election battle for control of Congress.

"My position is that a Democratic Congress can't, by the nature of things, do much to force any change in course by the President," Mr. Taft said. "On foreign and military problems, Mr. Truman has been weak and wavering, often acting on impulse."

"A Republican Congress could do much to force the adoption of a strong and definite policy on international issues and see that it is carried out."

In the same vein, Senator Martin (R) of Pennsylvania said in a week-end broadcast in Pennsylvania that the people as a whole haven't wakened to the seriousness of the Communist threat because "there is uncertainty at Washington, where there should be decisive action."

"There is conflict where there should be unity and weakness

Fourth Down, Goal To Go
A FOOTBALL-MINDED patriot, if quiz-shown right now about what his country needs most, might say it seems to be time to send in the first team.
He would be likely to fumble, however, if asked for details on this matter, such as who would be the outstanding members of the varsity. In the past, each crisis has produced leadership, he might recall, something like the way Notre Dame comes up year after year with a powerful varsity.
Young men no one ever heard of before, at least on a big scale, do incredible deeds. The fellows just behind them may be almost as good, but there is that little difference which makes all the difference on fourth down and goal to go.
Or, if a non-football-minded patriot were not being quiz-showed, but merely being asked for his honest opinion about whether or not he was satisfied with the performance of the varsity at this point in the proceedings, he would merely answer, "no"—which would amount to saying the same thing.

Supply And Demand?
BILLBOARD MAGAZINE has published as a service to its subscribers in the entertainment world the Department of Justice list of organizations with Communist hooks concealed in them. This decision was prompted by the recent troubles of a radio actress who says she joined a number of them without knowing the hook was there.
Nowhere in the list, containing dozens of names, is there mentioned a single church, fraternal organization, or any well-known organization other than the infamous Ku Klux Klan. The titles are curiously repetitious, having to do with councils, alliances, committees, congresses, mobilizations, parties, defenses, leagues, orders, etc.
Liberty, aid, democracy, civil rights, peace and, of course, labor are the ideas that crop up most often. It is characteristic of such organizations that they fish in troubled waters with bait suggesting they are the opposite of what they really are.
The list is not new. It has been published before and will be published again, many times. But each examination of it adds to wonderment that, with so many good organizations looking for members, the bad ones were able to get even a half dozen names for their letter-heads.

Let's Straighten This Out
A NEVADA SENATOR, George W. Malone, said the other day that wartime hoarding is an "honest American trait" and is objected to only by people who want to set up a welfare state! i.e., to get the population on a hand-to-mouth basis.
We think the senator meant to say something he did not say clearly enough — that having something laid by for a rainy day is not hoarding.
In its modern meaning, hoarding implies greed. It has no connection with the sound American practice of keeping something in reserve. It is not the practice of keeping something in reserve which causes trouble, but the practice of panic-buying in order to get something in reserve in a hurry, on a devil-take-the-hindmost basis.
Every time hoarding is mentioned, a lot of conscientious people who always have bought ahead because that is their way of doing things resent the implication of wrong-doing. There is no wrong-doing. No one expects them to switch over to a hand-to-mouth basis.
On the other hand, the hand-to-mouth buyers who suddenly switch over to a surplus basis are hoarders—and no one is going to give them the benefit of a doubt.

Going Through The Motions
THIS COUNTRY will get as much work out of Congress if it goes home until after the elections as it will get if Congress goes through the motions of staying in session.
The only reason it would go through the motions is because some of its members think that might make a better impression on voters. Voters are smarter than that.
They would know long before Election Day in November that a fake was being perpetrated. They would find out when correspondents in Washington spilled the beans about House and Senate sessions with most of the members unavoidably absent—back home.
There is room for a quibble about whether Congress should adjourn for keeps, closing the record of its 81st Session, or whether it should go into a prolonged recess.
The first would mean that only a presidential summons could bring it back to Washington. The second would mean it could be called back by its own leaders. There also would be technical differences about the status of pending legislation; these favor the recess idea.
But there is no reason why members of Congress should pretend to be in Washington when most of them intend to be at home, running for re-election. The decision should be made on the side of candor, not on the side of deceit.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

How Can We Forget Poland So Quickly?

IT IS CURIOUS how quickly we forget events and issues that once excited us. We seem to be able to throw them off, as we forget last year's Hit Parade tunes.
For instance, there is Poland. On Sept. 1, 1939, the entire world was concerned with Poland. A great war was begun over the independence and integrity of Poland. Stalin and Hitler, Russia and Germany were in alliance and they marched into Poland to destroy that country. As Molotov said:
"Two swift blows to Poland, one from the German army, the other from the Red army, and nothing remained of the ugly offspring of the Versailles treaty."
The civilized world protested and went to war, a war that continues to this day. But Poland is forgotten because it has ceased to exist. The conqueror's seal has been put upon it and the conquest has been acknowledged. Those who went to war because of Poland also went to its funeral at Teheran.
True, men fuss over what they call genocide. But they do not think of the destruction of Poland as genocide. It does not occur to them that the Poles have been driven to live under the control of Ukrainians and White Russians, who hate them; or that more than a million and a quarter of them have been deported into prison camps in Soviet Russia and that a large part of them have died of hunger and abuse.
NOBODY worries about Katyn. In fact, the State Department has shown antagonism toward anyone who raises this unpleasant question. Genocide? It was just plain murder. Ten thousand Polish officers, who were prisoners of war, disappeared in 1940. When what was left of the Polish government reverted to speaking terms with Soviet Russia, they began to make inquiries concerning these officers.
They furnished lists of names. The proof is complete that at no time were the Germans involved in this situation. Then the bodies of these officers were found in the Katyn forest, near Smolensk in Russia.
When Poland appealed to the International Red Cross to investigate, Soviet Russia broke off relations with Poland. At the Nuremberg trials, it was established beyond doubt that this massacre of prisoners of war was a Russian, not a German, deed.
Have the humanitarian agencies of the United Nations done anything about this? Have they raised the issue? Has the genocide commission said anything about it? Has UNESCO, which speaks so much about humanity, uttered a syllable?
Let the murdered be dead! Stalin must not be disturbed by the ghosts of his foul policies. It would be interesting to know if Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Churchill at Teheran or Yalta, where the fate of peoples was determined in council, ever twitted Stalin on his murders. Did they ask him how these 10,000 Polish officers were murdered? What was the method of killing? How was it done?
Occasionally some Quixotic journalist, like William Henry Chamberlain, writes to prick the conscience of mankind, but his tale, like mine today, appears to so many to sound like a broken record. Why bring up old stories? Is there nothing new to write about? Why raise moral issues when there is so much that is exciting? These 10,000 are dead. Why not speak of the living?
How grateful must those who want us to forget have been when Rita Hayworth and Ali Khan and the Bergman-Rossellini scandal provided a moment of piquant abandon. They would much rather that we should devote ourselves to such matters than that we should ask questions about Katyn.
Yet, this must be said: As long as the conscience of man was horrified by brutality, governments were held in check. There was a world-wide protest against Belgian brutality in the Congo, and old Leopold bowed to it.
When Czarist Russia was brutal to its Jews, William Howard Taft, then president, abrogated a commercial treaty with that country. I recall how the conscience of America cried out against the Kishinev massacre and how Turkey lost the friendship of Great Britain over the brutalities in Armenia.
Then the western world lived within the margins of Judaic-Christian civilization. The western mind was still dominated by the high principles and ideals of natural law. But today we can forget Poland and yet speak of humanity.

The Rumely Case

By Raymond Moley

IT MAY BE well for all publishers and others interested in a free press to look closely into the issue raised by the citation for contempt of the Congress of Dr. E. A. Rumely of the Committee for Constitutional Government.
The resolution against Mr. Rumely was passed after a heated debate by a vote that has every appearance of a sharp political division. Members of a more conservative turn, both Democratic and Republican, voted against the citation. Administration supporters, notably those who favor more extreme business regulation, voted for the resolution. The count was close—183 to 175.
This may well be a significant landmark in the determination of what constitutes lobbying. It also may settle some basic principles in constitutional law.
Two matters arose which have nothing to do with the real issue. One was the conviction and subsequent full pardon of Mr. Rumely many years ago. The other was the use of the congressmen's franking privilege for circulating literature of the Committee for Constitutional Government. The latter is a matter for congressional self-correction.
It appears that the Buchanan committee, in a determined effort to discredit the Committee for Constitutional Government, demanded 26 items of information. Mr. Rumely produced 25. The remaining one was a list of the names of purchasers of C.C.G. books. This, said Mr. Rumely, was outside the jurisdiction of the committee. The C.C.G., Mr. Rumely held, was not engaged in lobbying when it published and sold books.
If the position taken by the House becomes established law, it will be impossible to find a limit to what may be called lobbying. In short, lobbying in a real sense of direct pressure upon a legislator would lose all meaning. A ruling majority would also be able, under this guise, to pry into the most closely-held confidential secrets of publishers and by intimidation make a mockery of the freedom of the press guaranteed by the First Article of the Bill of Rights.
It is this, and not Mr. Rumely, that is involved in this grave action of the House.

The Time Of Transition

By Truman Twill

SUMMER is over, the melancholy days are here, and quicker than you can say Pusan all the radio crooners will be dreaming of a white Christmas.
The sun goes down while the evening is still young and sets a bad example next morning by being reluctant to get up and get going.
It will be but a few weeks more until jokers with perverted senses of humor will be pointing out that no one even has seen the sun for so and so many days but he is still "up there" somewhere.
About the same time it will become a matter of interest whether the price per pound for turkey is going to make it necessary to eat hamburgers on Thanksgiving too.
There will be the usual tragic instances of crackups as middle-aged householders blow their gaskets in the autumnal struggle with storm windows.
John L. Lewis, who has been out of the news and out of mind for the last few months will surely not pass up a chance to have a coal strike, what with a war and another winter to add to the desperation.
The grass, which never really stopped growing, is getting ready to grow like crazy until Armistice Day.
Armistice Day... the end of a war that was going to end wars... hmmm.

We Didn't Use Common Sense

By Mark Sullivan

SOUTH KOREA is a tiny country of some 20 million people. To prevent subjection of it to communism, we are using the utmost strength we have available and are mobilizing more.
Yet South Korea is only a tiny piece of Asia. And up to two years ago an immense part of Asia, China with some 400 million people, was under attempt at subjection to communism—an attempt coming from the same source and in other respects largely identical with the present attempt in South Korea.
Against that attempt at communizing China the policy of the Truman administration did not exert resistance. That policy raises a question, expressible in three letters but monumental in its relation to present disaster, "Why?"
An answer made at the time was that we could not afford to exert ourselves in resisting the communizing of China, that our resources did not permit. That answer was plausible, to a considerable degree it had merit. We had begun in 1946 to lay out billions to enable countries of western Europe to resist communism there, the aid that became known as the Marshall plan.
The theory was that our resources were not enough to resist communism in both Europe and China and that of the two it was more immediately important to resist in Europe. The countries in western Europe that we were defending composed, next to the United States itself, the area of the world's greatest productive capacity and economic strength. Fall of them to Russian communism could be directly fatal.
When the Communist conquest of China was under way, there was just one organized opposition to it. This was the Nationalist government of China under Chiang Kai-shek. Either Chiang would resist successfully, or the Communists would triumph. And whichever the outcome, it would be the final answer.
In simple common sense the interest of the United States lay in giving Chiang every support we could. This the Truman administration conspicuously did not do. That we should not give Chiang large military and economic support was understandable, because of what we were committed to giving western Europe.
But we did not give him even moral or political support. On the contrary, we conspicuously withheld them. As an example, we at one point publicly urged Chiang to take the Communists into a coalition government.
This and other actions and attitudes of the Truman administration caused Chiang to lose "face" with the Chinese people. And that loss of face was a major cause of his defeat.
In explanation of the Truman administration's attitude toward Chiang, it was said that his government was weak and inefficient. A frequent word used about him was "reactionary".
As if that, whether justified or not, should have weight, considering the stake we had. Among the mistakes and worse of the Truman administration about China, a glaring one was lack of ordinary common sense.

The Old Shaving Mug

By Frank Tripp

ANY MALE who grew his first crop of whiskers before King Gillette universalized the safety razor could tell this story—or a better one.
I came upon a museum piece the other day — two in fact, a shaving mug and a mustache cub. We'll dwell today upon the shaving mug.
The old shaving mug cabinet in the barber shop is in my mind's eye as I write. It was a directory of the town's top citizens as one scanned the names of the shop's customers emblazoned on their cups.
When the holder of a coveted spot got his last shave from the undertaker and the family called to claim his shaving mug, brush and usually his own private razor, everybody watched to see who would inherit the eye-level pigeonhole.
Few except transients and fuzz-growing youngsters were shaved with lather whipped up in the shop's own mug. I remember how I looked forward to a day when maybe my name might be on one of those cups. It was like getting in the local Who's Who.
That time never came because the safety razor came first. Thereafter, (one by one, the shaving mugs gathered dust or were withdrawn to the owner's home shaving kit. Before long there were plenty of coveted positions for the few who never got to shave themselves. Finally the spacious shaving mug cabinet disappeared.

The G.I.'s And The U.N. Routine

LIEUTENANT: Take that hill! Make it snappy! And hold it at all costs!
First G.I.: I rise to a point of order. It is my squad's impression that your proposition is not being put in the right form. It is too inclusive and somewhat confusing. It really constitutes three different propositions and I move they be taken up one at a time.
Lieutenant: Pipe down! Speed is the essence here!
Second G.I.: If I may say so, I agree with my colleague that the lieutenant's command should be clarified. There are before us three propositions: (1) Take that hill. (2) Make it snappy. (3) Hold at all costs. As I see it, the basic proposition is to take the hill and we should consider that point alone at this time.
LIEUTENANT: I must insist that the three orders constitute one general order.
Third G.I.: I must reaffirm my opinion expressed in a previous battle that this command in the threefold form would tend to expand the aggression instead of limiting it in accordance with our charter.
First Sergeant: What charter? We ain't got no charter out here in these Korean hills. Let's get goin'.
Third G.I.: As is well known, these tactics of the first sergeant are a form of blackmail characteristic of him as a member of the ruling circles.
A Captain: What the hell's goin' on here? Forward!
Lieutenant: Just a moment. I have two other speakers on my agenda. I call on the G.I. from Stroudsburg, Pa.
Fourth G.I.: Thank you. I move that we vote now only on taking the hill and take up the matter of speed and permanency later. I feel bound to point out that in a matter like this we should adhere to parliamentary form.
Major (from a distance): Get that outfit into action!
Fifth G.I.: I consider the major's proposal provocative and move it be tabled.
LIEUTENANT: This is a very critical situation and delay, I must say, is inadvisable.
Third G.I.: That is a remark typical of the capitalistic classes. I shall not make a further statement now, but I reserve the right to speak later after consulting my government.
Fourth G.I.: It is growing late. We have already been in line almost two hours. Some of us have dinner engagements and others are quite tired.
Lieutenant (giving up): If there is no objection, I shall adjourn this action until next Thursday.
Major (alone far up the hill): Where's that outfit? Get it up here!
Chorus of G.I.'s: Warmonger!

Yesterdays

From The Review Files

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—A large elk head was delivered in East Liverpool for mounting in front of the new home of Elks Lodge 258 on West Fifth St.
School Supt. F. H. Warren announced that children marking their sixth birthday before March 1, 1916, would be permitted to enter school during the current term.
Miss Mary Andrews, principal at Third St. School, was appointed to the Board of School Examiners to succeed Dr. J. E. Toot, whose term had expired.
TWENTY YEARS AGO—Hayes Farley, La-Croft kilnman, suffered leg and arm injuries when struck by a car from a tunnel kiln at Plant 4 of the Homer Laughlin China Co.
Miss Jean Sloan of East Liverpool was named arithmetic teacher for seventh and eighth grades in the W. E. Wells School at Newell.
State authorities ordered a trap gate in the dam at Guilford State Park opened after Y. & O. railroad officials reported a scarcity of water for operation of the West Point power plant.
TEN YEARS AGO—Rev. L. Davis Bernard, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, resigned to accept a call to Escanaba, Mich.
Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans upheld the validity of East Liverpool's parking ordinance when he fined an attorney $2 on an over-time parking charge in a test case.
The Columbiana County Election Board started checking 302 signatures affixed to Communist party petitions.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERAN

THERE ARE not quite enough seats for the number of children returning to school this year, but offers have been received from thousands of unselfish youngsters to give up theirs.
The government estimates that 33 million will be enrolled in our schools and colleges. This includes both the volunteers and the draftees.
Under our system, every child is IA to the truant officer until the age of 16. We don't just offer an education, we dare any youngster to refuse it.
And there's no question about it that we're getting to be a better educated people every year. We can get into trouble today that we weren't nearly literate enough for 50 years ago.
If you'll notice, we haven't turned up a spy or a conspirator yet who wasn't brilliant.
Anyway if all those kids going back to school brought an apple to teacher on opening day that's one crop Brannan won't have to worry about.

20-25 Killed In Rail Crash

Troop Train Ripped Near Coshocton

held by Army officials pending notification of next-of-kin. The 28th division, federalized last Tuesday, is the largest National Guard unit inducted into the U. S. army during the Korean emergency.

The Red Cross office in Philadelphia, headquarters for the area that embraces Ohio, reported that an emergency mobile unit was dispatched to the wreck scene. Disaster stations were set up at the armory and two churches in Coshocton.

A reporter at 10:30 a. m. had counted 19 bodies and was informed that six other soldiers had died in hospitals.

Rain began falling as the bodies were temporarily laid out in a field, 40 feet from the track. They were covered with army blankets.

Rescuers with the acetylene torches grimly probed the wreckage.

"I see another guy down there!" a workman would shout and the body would be tenderly removed from the debris.

Sergeant Joe Warhola of Simpson, Pa., said if the wreck had occurred 15 minutes later the men would have been at breakfast in the kitchen car, six cars from the rear.

Sergeant Warhola said the crash came just as the men were awakened for breakfast.

The troop train had stopped, apparently due to mechanical trouble, and flames had been put out, railroad men said. It was foggy and visibility was poor.

A Diesel was pushing the troop train and a steam locomotive pulling it as the train halted on a slight grade. The crash occurred five minutes later.

The Diesel pulling the Spirit of St. Louis smashed into the other Diesel driving it into the old-fashioned coach last on the train. The coach was ground into "what looked like tin cans and rubbish," a reporter on the scene said.

The car of the Diesel just ahead was thrown up and fell cross-wise on the third car. The pushing Diesel went down a 15-foot embankment.

As the rescue work progressed the uninjured soldiers just sat and stood about, looking dazed. An officer ordered them not to talk with newspapermen.

Musical Comedy Or Opera Eyed By Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 11 (AP)—What's next for smiling, brunette Yolande Betbeze of Mobile, Ala., the girl who reigns in bathing suit, crown and cape as Miss America 1951?

First she's just going to enjoy being Miss America. "I'm leaving my immediate future in the hands of the Miss America pageant," she said. That could mean a year of stage, modeling and television contracts totaling about $50,000.

And after that? Miss Betbeze (she pronounces it bet-beez) wants a career in musical comedy or opera and the $5,000 scholarship that comes with the Miss America title may further it.

A husband? Not yet. "I haven't had much time for going out," says the beauty queen, who has been studying voice and dancing for six years, in addition to language courses given at night by the University of Alabama extension school.

She says there is no special boyfriend and that she doesn't plan to marry for several years.

The 5-foot, 5½-inch southern belle who beat 53 competitors to the beauty-and-talent title Saturday neither drinks nor smokes.

130,000 Overflow Forbes Field In Catholic Services

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11 (AP)—Nearly 130,000 Roman Catholic men filled Forbes Field to overflowing last night at the first eucharistic rally of the Pittsburgh diocese since 1941.

The worshippers, representing Holy Name societies from 10 western Pennsylvania counties, jammed the stands of the Pittsburgh Pirates' baseball park, covered the playing field and overflowed into near-by streets.

The crowd was estimated by Police Superintendent Harvey Scott.

Two archbishops, three bishops and more than 700 priests took part in the two-hour ceremony, which included a benediction service by the light of thousands of candles with the huge floodlights turned off.

The Most Rev. William T. Mulloy, bishop of Covington, Ky., told the crowd: "The true Catholic of today needs a strong faith to prevent the undermining of one's faith in an atmosphere filled with poisonous doctrines."

2 Drown, Damage High In Virginia Flash Floods

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 11 (AP)—Rampaging waters receded today from flash floods which hit widely-scattered parts of Virginia yesterday, drowning at least two persons, causing widespread property damage and interrupting rail and road traffic.

Hundreds of homes were washed away, highways and rail lines suffered flooding and washouts and business firms received heavy water damage as heavy rains converted small streams into raging rivers.

Rockbridge county, in west-central Virginia, was hit hardest.

Bunche Blasts 'Sneak'

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 — Dr. Ralph J. Bunche yesterday called the North Korean invasion "a sneak attack on a peaceful people, as overt, immoral and ruthless as any such act has ever been."

German Police Battle Reds

Rioting Occurs In 3
Of Western Cities

BERLIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—Hundreds of German Communists attacked police in three West German cities during German memorial day observances yesterday.

Using their clubs to quell the demonstrators, the police after brief battles arrested 37 Reds in Berlin, 10 in Frankfurt and 21 in Darmstadt. In Berlin, 27 were released within a short time.

Elsewhere, the day was observed quietly.

The demonstrators, who pelted the police with stones, defied orders to call off unauthorized parades and demonstrations.

In Allied west Berlin, commandants of the western occupation powers joined in a program for victims of Nazi concentration camps. In Red-ruled east Berlin, the Communist-sponsored "victims of fascism" organization sponsored a demonstration at which some 25,000 persons heard denunciations of alleged U. S. aggression in Korea and of Anglo-American "imperialists", who, the speaker said, are "rearming western Germany for aggression."

New Officers Seated By Salineville Legion

SALINEVILLE, Sept. 11 (Special)—Newly-installed officers of American Legion Post 442 are:

John Wright, commander; Tom Scarrey, first vice-commander; John Brown, junior vice-commander; Lawrence Cosgrove Jr., adjutant; Paul Manning, treasurer; Loren Watts, service officer; and Harold Manning, sergeant-at-arms.

The trustees are Ernest Wilson, Earl Davidson, Harold Betts, Alfred Balmos and Michael Maher.

In charge of installation services Friday night were Judge Randall Buchanan of Steubenville, past commander of the 10th District, and Edgar Evans of Toronto, Jefferson county commander.

Irondale School's Enrollment Shows Gain

IRONDALE, Sept. 11 (Special)—The enrollment of the Irondale School is 341, an increase of 20 over the 1949-50 term. It was announced by C. P. Henderson, district superintendent.

The six elementary grades have 181, about the same as last year, and the High School has 160 in its six grades, an increase of 20.

Eighty-five students are enrolled in the six grades at Hammondsville School, Mr. Henderson said, bringing the total figure for the Saline district to 426.

Tent Falls, 50 Hurt

AMARILLO, Tex., Sept. 11 — An estimated 50 persons were injured, one seriously, last night when a giant revival tent collapsed in a hail and rain storm.

E. W. Dill, 1546 Wilford, East St. Louis, Ill., says he's the happiest man in Illinois, now that he's feeling better. Mr. Dill given all the credit to HADACOL for feeling so much better. He was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Dill's statement on what HADACOL did for him: "I was a conductor for the New York Central Railroad for over 37 years. In 1947, a locomotive ran over me. I was in the hospital a year and a half. After I got out of the hospital I was very nervous and had dizzy spells all the time. I tried many things—nothing seemed to help me. Then a friend of mine persuaded me to take HADACOL—and after he insisted for 3 weeks I finally got some HADACOL. What a marvelous change has taken place—now I am able to move around, am hardly nervous at all and dizzy and fainting spells, why they've almost completely vanished. Now I feel so good I have opened up a candy store and do a good day's work. HADACOL—why, that's the most wonderful thing there is in this world. I recommend it to all my friends."

Many Thousands are benefiting from HADACOL. . . . even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients whose systems lack Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body (to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails).

Don't continue to be miserable! Don't continue to suffer! Give remarkable HADACOL a chance to help you and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size. Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. (c) 1950, The LeBlanc Corporation.

Sturdy Roof Key To Good House

Next to the foundation, the roof of a house is about as important as any other one part of the structure.

The home owner who has a first-class roof will have fewer repair problems. A poor roof can be the source of continuing expense and trouble.

A roof has three primary specifications—it must be absolutely wind- and weather-tight; it should be highly resistant to fire; it should be strong, adequately pitched and drained.

Roofing is available in a wide variety of materials, including asbestos, asphalt, metal, slate and wood shingles, sheet metal, clay tile, tarred felt and gravel or roll roofing. Shingles or tiles are most generally used on a home. The other materials are largely confined to multi-family buildings, garages and commercial structures.

For strength, roof rafters should be no further apart than 15 inches center to center. The roof covering is laid on sheathing nailed to the rafters. In the case of wood shingles, the sheathing boards are laid two or three inches apart to permit air circulation and retard rot in the shingles. For all other types of roof covering, the sheathing is laid tight, board to board.

Paneled Walls Lend Rich Tone To Room

There is nothing quite so substantial and rich-looking as a paneled room. Vivid colors and contrasting wall effects produce interesting and often attractive rooms. But paneling has a quiet elegance of its own.

A very finished job can be done by anyone capable of using a miter box to cut molding and strip at a 45-degree angle, and use a hammer and saw.

The first step is to measure your walls and decide how many panels are required to fill each of them. A rough sketch of each area will help.

It must be understood that paneling can be handled to produce different effects in a room. If you have a low ceiling and want an effect of greater height, high, narrow panels as shown in drawing A, are used; if the ceiling is too high, a lower effect is produced by using long horizontal panels as in B. Simple paneling without a chair-rail (C) has little effect on room size or height.

The paneling is done by first removing the molding above the baseboard and nailing up a strip of 4-inch trim around the room about one foot below the ceiling. This provides a top and bottom rail as a base for the work.

Next, the vertical pieces of 4-inch strip are laid in place and nailed. The horizontal pieces follow. All this strip is cut square so that ends butt against sides.

When the frames are completed, the joints should be sanded off smooth. The next and final job is setting ordinary picture molding inside the frames as illustrated. The joining of this is mitered as shown by the detail. The nails should be two-inch wire nails with small heads, sunk a bit below surface and the nail holes filled with putty or plastic wood.

Walls, strip and molding should be painted the same color. Where natural finishes are desired, plywood must be applied to the walls before paneling, and the joints arranged so that they are covered by the vertical strips.

Tips On Home For Reopening After Summer

Many Things Need Looked After Before Winter Comes Again

When returning home after a summer's absence, the householder should check off seasonal jobs in preparation for the coming fall and winter.

Screens should be taken down, storm windows and doors put in place. Furnace and heating system need to be checked, serviced and readied by a heating contractor, unless this already has been done in the spring.

Gutter leaders should be cleaned so as to remove accumulated leaves, twigs and dirt.

Outside pipes and faucets should be drained with the garden hose and other garden equipment cleaned and stored away until needed next spring.

If there are any visible signs of termites or other destructive insects, an exterminator should be called in to prevent further damage.

Outdoor furniture should be taken in and properly stored. As a protection against dampness, dust and termites, a covering on the furniture is recommended. The basement is not always the best storage spot. An attic or a room above ground is preferable.

Early fall is also a good time to make any needed roof repairs or other outside improvements that may be required before cold weather can hamper such work. If some exterior painting is essential now, choose only a sunny, dry day for it.

Electric repairs should be done only by a licensed electrician. Even ordinary house voltage is dangerous. And, equally as important, many fire insurance policies are voided in cases where damage was caused by work performed by a person not so licensed.

Above all, it is necessary to be constantly on guard against fire hazards. Oily rags and other combustible materials should be taken out of the basement or other areas where there is a heating furnace close by or flammable liquids such as cleaning fluids.

Government May Ease Housing Unit 'Freeze'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The Housing and Home Finance Agency is studying the possibility of modifying its freeze on the disposition of 354,000 housing units built during World War II to fill emergency needs.

Many of the projects were up for sale to veterans and city authorities on Aug. 16 when HHA ordered disposition halted in view of the Korean war.

The agency now is taking a second look at the situation, and probably will modify the order, which affects 217,000 temporary and 137,000 permanent units.

War Impact Takes Toll In Housing Field

Shortages Of Both Labor And Materials Felt In Industry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (INS) —A government survey discloses that two months of United Nations fighting in Korea has had a pronounced effect on the American home building industry.

President Truman has acted to curb inflation by reducing federal home lending. But the supply-price situation — key economic factors so far untouched by the government — is getting worse.

Where labor and material shortages and increased prices were only isolated and spotty before Korea, they now have reached serious proportions.

More than half of the nation's homebuilders are being harassed by shortages of one or more essential construction materials, and rising prices are almost universal in this country.

Gypsum products, cement, hardwood flooring, framing lumber and brick are the scarcest items, and bricklayers and plasterers are becoming harder to find each day.

The Commerce Department says, the materials supply situation will continue "tight" this month and in October, but should improve by early winter.

Commerce economists are looking for a fairly large drop in construction this fall as a result of the credit restrictions and the normal seasonal cut in building.

A third factor that might help in easing construction problems involves new controls soon to be placed on inventories and allocation of strategic materials.

Inventory regulations are expected to reduce hoarding, although officials say there are no indications of widespread hoarding. Allocation programs may assure a fair distribution of materials.

Mortgage lenders, following the government's lead, already have begun to tighten up regulations on commercial home loans.

The National Association of Home Builders reports lenders in all cities have become much more selective and, generally, are making construction loans to well-established builders.

However, NAHB adds: "Unfortunately, in a number of cities, lenders have temporarily withdrawn from the market or are demanding totally unreasonable assurances from builders as to their ability to obtain materials promptly."

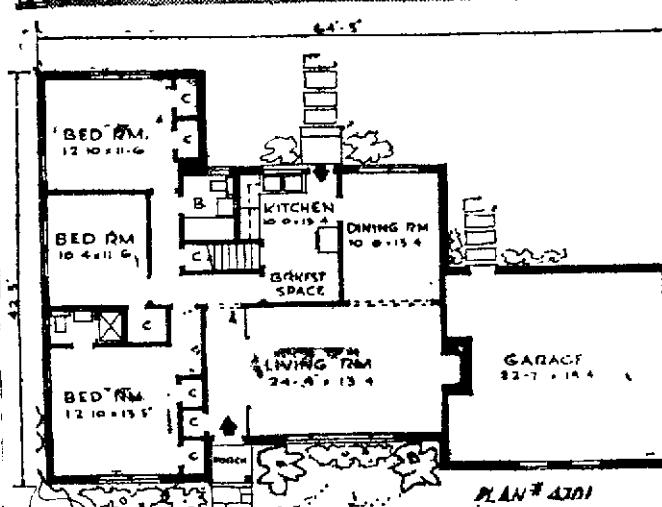

Boy Gets The Breaks, But They're All Bad

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 11 (AP)—Breaks come to Marion (Sonny Boy) Leonard frequently, but they're not the kind of breaks he enjoys.

During his 14 years, the sandy-haired ninth grade student at Valley View, Ark., five miles south of Jonesboro, has suffered 17 broken bones. He's recuperating now from a broken left leg. He had been on crutches only a week since getting up from a broken pelvis. He broke his pelvis when his crutches slipped as he was recuperating from a broken leg.

During the 14 years, he's broken his left shoulder, left leg four times, left arm several times, various ribs, his collarbone and his pelvis. The first fracture came when he was six months old.

Residents of this area are out to provide a good break for Sonny Boy now. A drive was begun earlier this week to raise funds to send the youngster to a bone specialist.

BECOMING AMERICA'S most popular layout, the one-story house gives architects a challenge for ingenuity in efficient planning. The segregation of bedrooms in a secluded wing brings forth a variety of arrangements for closets and baths. A living room-dining room "L" has become virtually a must in planning. It affords a sweep through and provides spaciousness that cannot be obtained expediently in any other way. Here is a plan for not be obtained expediently in any other way. Here is a plan for 33 Keno Ave., Hollis 7, N. Y., that solves many of the problems of the one-story house. This design 4701 contemplates a coverage of 1,429 square feet, exclusive of the two-car garage—a figure that can be used for local estimates. The house is 64 feet, 5 inches wide over all, so it calls for ample width in the lot.

Super-Highway Hopes Rise In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 11 (AP) — Prospects for a West Virginia super-highway have brightened, but its sponsors emphasize that no decision has been reached.

The West Virginia Turnpike Commission has received what Chairman D. Holmes Morton describes as a "most encouraging" preliminary report on the project.

He said it was sufficiently favorable to lead the commission to authorize additional surveys. But he insisted that all planning for the roadway still is in an "embryonic stage."

A final report on the estimated cost and recommended location of the route is expected by the end of October, he said.

Better To Be Educated

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Knoxville detectives trapped a check forging suspect by having him write the word "dollars." It came out "dollarads," the way it was written on the forged checks. Confronted with his mistake, the suspect confessed.

Second Dividend Due Jan. 1 On Vet Insurance

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Veterans Administration plans to start paying the second dividend on veterans' insurance Jan. 1. Dividends will be paid as each policy's anniversary date comes along and will cover the three-year period since 1948.

The dividend total probably will not be announced until December, but the VA said it will be far below the $2,800,000,000 refunded this year. The actual dividend rate per $1,000 of insurance is yet to be determined.

Plans for starting payment in January may be disrupted, the VA said, if it fails to get its full budget request of $4,800,000 for defraying administration expenses of the dividend.

With the entry of Newfoundland into confederation, Canada became the main fish-producing country in the world in terms of dollar value.

Available in large sheets, these wallboards are a boon to house remodeling, the finishing off of extra attic rooms, and other additions.

All Is Confusing

OMAHA — A 55-year-old Omaha man filed a court action asking that his name be changed. His first name, he said, was Deco. It was confusing and he wanted it changed to Dan. He wasn't concerned about the last name. It's Mladenovich.

Gypsum Big Boon To Home

Dry-Wall Method Vast Improvement

One of the most important items in the construction of a modern home is gypsum—a mineral. It is used both in plaster and in precast wallboard panels, often called plaster boards, sheet rock and dry walls.

Both forms of gypsum are fire-proof. Walls built of gypsum lath and plaster stop the passage of fire for 45 minutes. A half-inch thickness of gypsum wallboard stops the passage of fire for 40 minutes. The minimum standard requirement for residential building is 30 minutes.

The development of modern wallboards of this type has brought about widespread economy in home building. This dry-wall construction eliminates the time and labor involved in applying separate coats of plaster and waiting months for them to dry thoroughly.

Dry-wall construction is now being used in homes where the most expensive walls could be afforded.

New methods of covering joints result in surfaces so smooth that detection is virtually impossible after painting or papering.

An added advantage of gypsum is its resistance to cracks caused by framing movement, vibration or settlement. It is possible to use the finest wall coverings on initial decorating jobs.

The elimination of wet plaster tends to minimize considerable swelling and shrinkage of lumber induced by the tremendous amount of moisture held in a new house for long periods.

Available in large sheets, these wallboards are a boon to house remodeling, the finishing off of extra attic rooms, and other additions.

With the entry of Newfoundland into confederation, Canada became the main fish-producing country in the world in terms of dollar value.

Road Funds' Use O.K.'d For Toll Bridge Bonds

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 11 (AP)—The attorney general's office has approved the use of state road funds to guarantee payments on toll bridge bonds.

The 1949 legislature authorized use of road funds to make up any deficit not met by tolls, but Road Commissioner Ray Cavendish asked whether the act, which "authorized and directed" him to take such action, was constitutional.

Assistant Attorney General W. Bryan Spillers said previous Supreme Court decisions indicated the court would approve the law as "authorizing" such action, but would invalidate it as "directing the action."

Mr. Cavendish asked the opinion in connection with a proposal for erection of a toll bridge across the Kanawha River at Winfield in Putnam county. He said there was some doubt whether tolls would be sufficient to finance the structure.

Looking for a Money Saver?

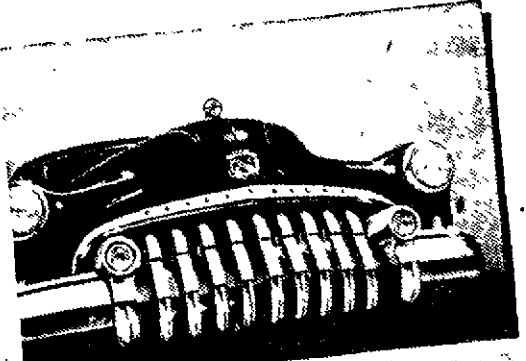

Better Buy Buick!

YOU CAN SEE here how smart it is—don't have to be told that it's the most quickly identified car on the road today.

You probably know that the engine under that broad bonnet is a Fireball straight-eight valve-in-head engine and a lively stepper in any company.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

You can check the abundance of its room by the simple expedient of taking the family and trying out its spaciousness at the nearest Buick dealer's—and a very few minutes on the open road will satisfy you that all-coil springing, low-pressure tires and Buick's torque-tube drive really do produce a ride that is matchless for its soft comfort.

BUT RIGHT NOW, it may be that the money angle is the thing uppermost in your mind, and on that we'd like to make two points:

All our records go to show that this is the most economical Buick ever built. It is easy on gas, on oil, on tires, on upkeep.

And if you choose it with Dynaflo

Drive,* it immediately eliminates all chance of friction-clutch repair and replacement—not to mention greatly reducing rear-axle and transmission maintenance.

Best of all, your initial outlay is a highly favorable one—whatever Buick you buy. For these brawny straight-eights—built rugged and solid for durable service—are priced at a level that makes them a standout buy in any price class.

Yes, better buy a Buick. Your dealer will be glad to demonstrate, glad to work out all the arithmetic of a deal. See him right away and get an order signed.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Meet Mr. Adams, Master Of Irrelevance

SOMEONE RECENTLY asked Cedric Adams, who has a five-minute program of chatter Mondays through Fridays on C.B.S. (3:55 p. m.), whether he'd ever noticed that waitress' elbows were invariably dirty.

"I have never noticed that," observed Mr. Adams thoughtfully. "Very little of my life to date has been devoted to the study or observation of waitress' elbows. I'll take a look tonight."

He probably did, too. Seems odd he hadn't noticed them before, because Mr. Adams has a keen and tireless eye for the smallest details, most of which eventually find their way on to his daily commentary. Do you know how to fix a thermometer? Mr. Adams will tell you. You want a tip on how to smoke in bed (practice he doesn't endorse) without burning the house down? He'll tell you that, too.

"WOULD YOU like to know whether your hand is normal in size?" he asked me and several thousand others a day or so ago on his program. No, frankly, I didn't, but I do now. I don't exactly know what to do with the information, either.

"Does it ever give you a weird feeling," asks Mr. Adams, who is fond of asking such questions, "to look at somebody's head and think of all the stuff that's stored in there? For instance, if you saw down and typed out everything that you know or could remember, it would probably take a silo to store the manuscript. And yet there it is, compact and available—most of the time—in your egg-shaped noggin."

It is the sort of thought that would occur to Mr. Adams because he appears to sit down and type out any stray ideas or facts which happen to be at the top of his particular egg-shaped silo every day.

None of them is specially relevant to anything in my experience—and that is not intended necessarily as a criticism. There is an awful lot of relevance going around and there ought to be room enough for one master of irrelevance, a degree to which Mr. Adams must have undisputed title.

Most unlimited blessing of Pillsbury Mills, who is his sponsor; the best wishes of Arthur Godfrey, which is one of the aliases of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and the militant support of apparently all of Minneapolis.

Mr. Adams' column is not only devoured avidly in Minneapolis, where it appears in the Tribune, but also in hosts of other cities, where it appears as an ad in many magazines. His local radio shows in Minneapolis, of which he has a bewildering number, have incredibly high ratings.

It just goes to prove how far a gift for irrelevance will take a man. "I haven't heard the word 'skeddadle' for years. I hope it hasn't left our language," he'll say in a very expressive voice, in his rich, mellifluous voice, which is accompanied by one of the funniest chuckles on the air.

And in the next breath: "You might check your family on that one. If one parent has a large nose, oversized ears or a big mouth and those same features are normal on the other parent, a child is very apt to inherit the more extreme features. Here's a cynic's definition of imagination."

tion: Imagination is something that sits up with a woman when he stays out late."

I HAVE no idea where Mr. Adams digs up so much information, but he has tons of it at his command. From Mr. Adams I have learned that my heart pumps enough to fill a railroad tank car every two days—a bit of information that has worried me ever since—that square telephone poles are more practical than round ones and that birds in brush or forest fires often stay on the nest to burn to death trying to protect their young.

It was from Mr. A. that I discovered I was wasting my time trying to write the Great American Novel (the average book of fiction sells less than 5,000 copies, he says. Discontinued mine immediately) and also that there's nothing to the legend that the first customer in a pawnshop on Monday morning can walk off with any item in the store at his own price.

I'm especially enchanted with that last fragment of learning. It marks the first time in my life I ever learned something wasn't true before I'd ever suspected that it was.

Cut In Postal Service

Draws Attack By Taft

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP)—The government's curtailment of postal service came under the fire of Senator Robert A. Taft yesterday.

Mr. Taft claims the service is "one of the biggest businesses in the world," and added, "the government should run it as a business with efficiency and planning."

He spoke before some 100 delegates at a convention of the Ohio section of the United National Post Office Clerks.

The Republican senator from Ohio remarked, too, upon the Korean crisis. He said there is need for everyone to sacrifice and pointed out the necessity of building up national defense to meet the threat of communism.

A Cleveland, Robert Becka, was named president of the postal clerks' group before the convention adjourned yesterday.

Thomas Gets Out Of Prison

Doesn't Say What His Future Plans Are

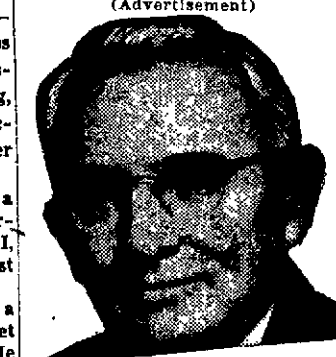

ALLENDALE, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—J. Parnell Thomas, the ex-congressman who went to prison for padding his government payroll, is home again.

He did not say whether he will re-enter public life, but remarked that his immediate plan is "well-needed rest."

The former chairman of the House committee on un-American activities returned to his family here yesterday after serving eight and a half months of a six-to-18-month sentence at the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn. His wife, son and some friends motored home with him.

The 55-year-old Republican was sentenced Dec. 9 for putting non-working employees on his payroll and collecting more than $8,000 in kickbacks. The sentence included a $10,000 fine.

Mr. Thomas said he came out (Advertisement)

Amvets Rename Russell Leader

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11 (AP)—

Harold Russell, 36, the handless war veteran who won two Oscars for motion picture acting, yesterday was re-elected by acclamation as national commander of the Amvets.

It marked the first time a commander of the group, American Veterans of World War II, had succeeded himself. The post pays $10,000 annually.

Mr. Russell was manager of a Cambridge (Mass.) meat market when the last war started. He lost his hands in 1944 at Camp Mackall, N. C., when a TNT charge he was fusing exploded.

Before ending their convention, the Amvets approved use of the atomic bomb "if in the judgment of our nation's leaders its use should be required for national and world security."

Another adopted resolution says: "Under no circumstances must Japan be allowed to fall into Communist hands, even if that means the ultimate rearming of Japan."

Salineville Eagles, Tavern Cited By State

A Salineville lodge and an East

Liverpool district tavern have been cited for hearings this week in Columbus on charges of violating state liquor regulations.

Chairman Frank Krebs said Salineville Eagles Aerie 2670 will be heard Wednesday on gambling devices and possession of liquor. Katherine Stewart and Harold Osborn, operators of Stewart's on Routes 7-30 north of the city, will be heard Thursday on a citation of gambling devices.

Each establishment has permits for beer and wine by the drink.

Salem Man Re-Elected By County's C.E.

Bethel Church Group Wins Award For Most At 59th Convention

Randall Black of Salem was re-elected president of the Columbiana County Christian Endeavor Union at the 59th annual convention Sunday afternoon and night in the First Church of Christ.

Miss Elsie Buchanan of East Liverpool, and Glenn Jarvis of Highlandtown were named vice-presidents, Miss Laura Smith of Wellsville, secretary, and Wilford Padgett and Wilford Howard, both of East Liverpool, treasurer and assistant treasurer, respectively.

Department chairmen include Mrs. Vida Williams, Miss Betty Fickel and Harold Risinger of East Liverpool; Miss Louella Thompson of Wellsville, and Mrs. Lillie Black of Salem.

LeMoine Armstrong was elected state trustee, Mrs. Gerry King, song leader, and Miss Evelyn Fickel, pianist. All are from East Liverpool.

The speaker at the afternoon session was Rev. Robert DeMass of Dayton, executive secretary of the Ohio Christian Endeavor Union. A fellowship dinner was served at 5 p. m. by the Sigma Alpha Class.

The Bethel Presbyterian Church won the award for the largest registration and the Phillips' Christian Church of near Salem won the award for the longest mileage. The attendance cup went to the Calvary Methodist Church and the attendance banner to the host society.

Celebration of Holy Communion and the installation of officers preceded a film, "Reaching from Heaven", which was in conclusion of the service.

Medical Schools Show Record Enrollment

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Approved medical schools in the United States had a record enrollment the last school year.

The American Medical Association's council on medical education and hospitals said today that 25,103 attended the 72 medical and seven basic science schools in the 1949-1950 academic year. This is an increase of 1,433 students over the preceding year.

The freshman class of 7,042 was the largest on record, 5.3 per cent higher than the preceding year.

Dr. Donald G. Anderson, council secretary, said the freshman class this year will be "even larger".

IT'S 8 WAYS [COUNT THEM] WITH WONDER BREAD

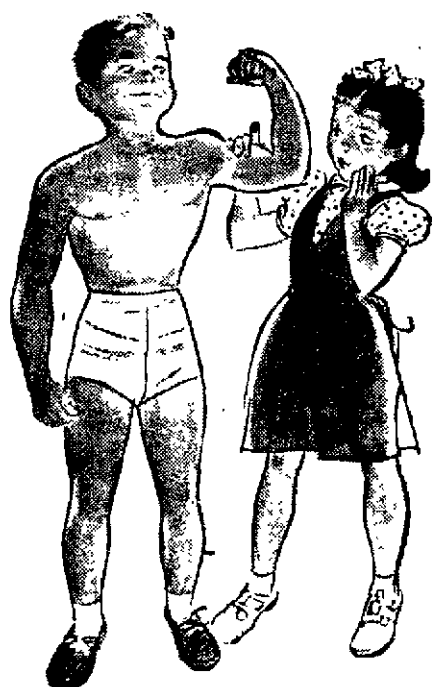

To Help Keep Your Child From Slipping Behind in Healthy Growth!

2 Slices a Meal and a Sandwich Daily Supply:

TO DOCTORS: Enclose supporting statements above and upon request on your letterhead.

Because Wonder Bread Helps Supply 8 Elements Children Need To Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

Note How Amazing Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, and Fish 8 Ways (as shown above)

365 days a year, 3 times each day—every mother is faced with this simple proposition: My child must eat enough of the right foods today—or slip behind in the race.

This group of common foods supplies ALL the essential food elements your child needs 365 days a year: Meat, milk, bread, fruit, yellow and green-leafed vegetables.

Thus, these are the foods you will want to give your child.

Good for Growth and Energy

As shown in the chart, Wonder Bread is very valuable—because it helps your child grow bigger and stronger 8 ways.

Growing children need TWICE the protein per pound of body weight as grownups.

Penny for penny, Wonder Bread gives your child more body-building protein than the average of meat, milk, fish and eggs.

Growing children require energy for work and play. Wonder Bread is a substantial energy food. More quickly converted into energy than fat. And better in protein for child growth.

Helps Build Stronger, Bigger Bodies 8 Ways

The chart shows the 8 body and brain-building properties of Wonder Bread.

Serve Wonder Bread with meat, fish, eggs, milk, fruit and both yellow and green-leafed vegetables in a balanced diet to supply ALL the food elements your child must have for healthy growth.

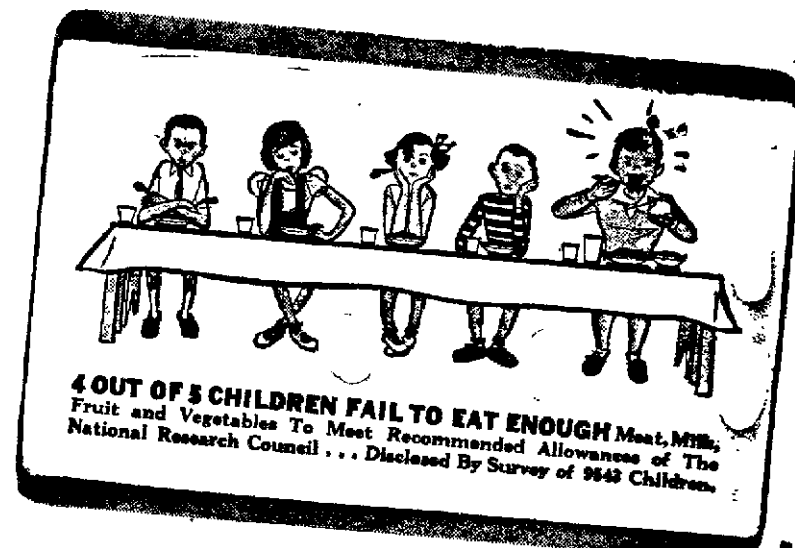

8 ounces of Wonder Bread for a growing child cost less than a dime a day. You can afford Wonder Bread for your child.

Doubly Fresh

Children love Wonder Bread. Plain or toasted. Because Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it; fresh when you eat it. Because slow-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Get economical Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today—you'll be glad you did.

DiMaggio's Booming Bat Buoy's Yankees' Pennant Hopes

Tigers' Lead Slashed; Tribe Trails Now By 7

By RALPH KODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees' hopes of a second straight American League pennant found a new stimulus today in the booming bat of Joe DiMaggio.

Jake LaMotta On Hot Seat As NBA Meets

DETROIT, Sept. 11 (AP)—Jake LaMotta was on the hot seat today as the National Boxing Association opened its annual convention.

Commissioner Abe Greene of Paterson, N. J., took a shot at LaMotta's failure to defend his middleweight title against Ray Robinson in his annual report. Later the delegates were to vote on the NBA executive committee's recommendation to strip LaMotta of his title if he didn't fight Sugar Ray by Oct. 12.

Robinson's manager, George Gairford, conferred yesterday with Greene and other NBA officials. He is pressing for NBA action to force LaMotta to fight Sugar Ray.

LaMotta wrote Greene recently that he would face Robinson "early next year". Jake said he didn't want to risk his crown until 1957 because of income tax reasons if he gets past France's Laurent Dauthuille Wednesday night at Detroit's Olympia.

Greene urged the NBA to establish a "concise, logical and orderly regulation of title defenses".

"Permitting champions to select their own contenders," said Greene, "is equivalent to, and would be just as fantastic, as permitting the Yankees, if they win the American League pennant, to select the cellar club of the National League for World Series competition."

Greene proposed each champion receive a certificate or diploma and a notice calling his attention to the six-month rule governing title defenses. A definite date deadline would be set.

The commissioner also urged similar regulations for contenders so that "one-shot" fighters could not be maneuvered into little shots while logical contenders languish in the marshes."

The NBA was urged by Greene to permit suspension of "palpably worn-out performers" without need for recommendation from a member state.

"There came to my mind the names of several boxers," said Greene, "whose exploits thrilled the multitudes in the past, who continue to perform on past reputations even though they are in a sad state of decadence. These men have no right to submit their bodies to further destruction, neither have they the right—they or their managers—to subject the sport to continued opprobrium and the fans to false representation of faded abilities."

Unless War Worsens, Big 10 Grid All Set

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Unless the war situation suddenly should worsen, the Big Ten should last the football season with its present manpower.

A survey of the conference disclosed today that only about 40 players and Wisconsin's head coach, Ivy Williamson, are military reservists or National Guardsmen subject to call at any time.

The rest of the more than 600 conference footballers, excepting a smattering of ROTC and World War II veterans, are draft eligibles. Once classes begin, induction of draftable collegians generally will be delayed until the school year is completed, under present selective service interpretation.

Students in advanced ROTC presently have deferment status until the two-year advanced training is completed.

'I Call It A Disgrace'

Hank Greenberg's Boiling Mad After Tribe's Losses To Browns

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11 (AP)—Hank Greenberg was boiling mad today about the four straight games his skidding Cleveland Indians lost to St. Louis. Manager Lou Boudreau blamed "stupid baseball."

"I call it a disgrace to lose four straight to the St. Louis Browns," said General Manager Greenberg after the Browns had climbed out of the American League cellar and dropped fourth-place Cleveland seven games out of first.

"We don't even seem to be hustling," he added.

"The fans had plenty of opportunities to bear down with the boys and they were kinder than we have any right to expect," he continued. "When I was with Detroit the Indians were always complaining about the way they were treated at home but I certainly found them (the fans) to be tops."

"We played stupid baseball," admitted Boudreau but he did not have any ideas on how to improve things.

"I've shaken up the lineup with no effect," he explained before hopefully adding:

"It's going to be tough on some pitcher one of these days because we're certainly due to unload."

Even before the series ended Greenberg declared there were going to be some roster changes.

"You can bet on this," he said, "if we lose next year it won't be with the same team."

Whether new blood will pep up the Indians is a question. Boudreau is already fielding an all-rookie infield made up of Al Rosen, Ray Boone, Bob Avila and Luke Easter.

But it's for sure that the Tribe put on a poor performance in those four games against St. Louis.

The Indians got four runs in the first inning of the first game and then only one earned score during the remaining 35 frames of the four contests. And they have only one unearned run over that distance.

The Tribe's top brass think the collapse started in New York Aug. 29 when Cleveland suffered the first of four straight defeats by the Yankees.

There is some evidence the props went out even before that, at Boston where Cleveland lost two games.

The Indians were one and a half games behind Detroit and virtually tied for second with New York on Aug. 27 when they blew a seven-run lead and lost to Boston, 11-9. The next day they blew an 11-run lead and lost, 15-4.

St. Louis won yesterday's game from Cleveland, 2-1. Roy Sievers doubled in the seventh and scored as Tom Upton hit a slow roller to Bob Avila who threw—too late—to the plate.

Florists Win 2nd Half League Crown

Meet Lisbon In Playoffs

The Riverview Florists won the second half championship of the County League Sunday afternoon by edging Stratton and East Palestine in playoff games at the East Palestine City Park.

The twin triumph places the Florists in the best of five series against Lisbon, the first half winner, which will get under way Wednesday. The diamond has not been selected.

The three teams finished the second half in a dead heat with 13 wins and 5 losses.

Riverview tallied five runs in the first inning against Stratton and then held on for a 5-4 decision after halting a rally in the ninth.

Don Railing was the winning pitcher, yielding 11 hits, but fanning 10 and walking only three. Nick Turick struck out seven and walked one.

Manager Johnny Anderson and Ken Talbot had two apiece for Riverview while Pete Semanik and Steve Yajko collected three hits apiece for Stratton.

In a free-hitting game, Riverview bounced back in the second game to edge Palestine, 7-6, again halting a ninth inning rally.

The Florists scored two runs in the second to take a one-run lead and the teams then traded runs evenly until the winners picked up another run in the fifth.

Both scored twice in the eighth and Palestine squeezed one back in the ninth.

Paul Anderson with a double, triple and single and Guy Silence with three singles paced Riverview while Tom Woods socked a home run and single and Herb Crawford, the winning pitcher, contributed two singles.

Bob Campbell hit a home run and a pair of singles for the losers while Lloyd Walker also clouted a homer.

Richmond, Newark
Meet For Finals Spot

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 11 (AP)—The Richmond Indians take on the Newark Yankees here tonight to settle their division of the Ohio-Indiana League playoffs.

The winner meets the Marion Red Sox in a four-of-seven series for the playoff title. Site of this series will be the home field of the team with highest percentage standing.

The Richmond-Newark series tied at two games each yesterday when the Tigers beat the Yankees, 9-7.

Richmond scored seven runs in the first two innings, capitalizing on the wildness of Newark's starter, Steve Krall.

Newark 000 401 020—7 7 0
Richmond 340 100 10x—9 11 4
Krall, Russo (2) and Smith; Morrow, Coppage (6) and Clark.

When Ralph Kiner hit his 34th home run in St. Louis, it marked the second year in succession that he belted No. 34 in Sportsman's Park. He did it this year four days ahead of his 1949 four-bagger.

Calcutta Wins, 8-2, To Nail Playoff Title

Bowling

Coleman fashioned a three-hitter and H. Hickman blasted four hits as they led Calcutta's league champions to an 8-2 victory over Glenmoor Sunday in the deciding game for the Beaver Rural League playoff championship.

Hickman socked two doubles and two singles in five trips and drove in six runs. Coleman raked Glenn, the losing twirler, for two hits as did E. Hickman and Moore, one of Moore's going for three bases and one of E. Hickman's for two.

The triumph gave the loop champs three wins against Glenmoor's two in the five-game series.

Marlin nicked Coleman for two of the three Glenmoor safeties.

Archie E. Huff Claimed At 53

Pughtown Postmaster Was Ill For 2 Months

Archie E. Huff, Pughtown postmaster, died Saturday at 11 a. m., in his home, following a two-month illness.

A son of Sherman Huff and Mary Pugh Huff, he was born April 7, 1897, in Chester. He resided in Pughtown for 27 years and conducted a general store for many years. The business is now owned by his son, Ralph Huff.

Mr. Huff was a member of the session and the board of deacons of the Pughtown Presbyterian Church. He was active in Grange circles in Hancock county.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Helen Ferguson Huff, another son, Neil Huff of Weirton Heights; two daughters, Mrs. Leonard Watson of New Cumberland, and Mrs. J. M. Baron of Weirton; two brothers, Ray Huff and Ulysses Huff, both of Chester, and two grandchildren.

Rites will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the church by Rev.

William Flurkey. Burial will be in Union Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the Stewart & Turley Funeral Home, New Cumberland, until 12:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Katie Patrick

Mrs. Katie Patrick, born in slavery more than 100 years ago, died Saturday at 10:15 a. m. in the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Arlene Smith, 310 Beaver Ave., Midland, following a two-week illness.

Mrs. Patrick was born in 1849 in Cadiz, Ky., a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Wilson. Blind for the past 18 years, she lived in Cadiz until 1931, when she went to Midland to live with her granddaughter. She was a member of the Baptist Church at Paducah, Ky.

She leaves two other grandchildren.

The body was brought to the Kelly Funeral Home where friends may call tonight. Rites will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in St. Paul's A. M. E. Church, Midland, by Rev. E. J. Sheffield. Burial will be in the Oak Grove Cemetery in Industry township.

Mrs. Ira Watson

Mrs. Amy Watson, 62, wife of Ira Watson, 918 Florence St., died Sunday noon in City Hospital, following a six-month illness.

Mrs. Watson was born at Raven Rock, W. Va., and came to East Liverpool 25 years ago.

She leaves three sons, Lawrence Watson of Walnut, Calif., Howard Watson of Miami, Fla., and Paul Watson at home; two daughters, Pearl Watson at home, and Mrs. Dolly Swick of Chester; her mother, Mrs. Orlando DeLong of Chester; five sisters, Mrs. Belle Robinson and Mrs. Lena Riggs of East Liverpool, Mrs. Ada Wells of Chester, Mrs. Sally Wright of St. Marys, W. Va., and Mrs. Della French of Parkersburg; four brothers, Paron DeLong, Lawrence DeLong, Albert DeLong and Clarence DeLong, all of Chester, and 12 grandchildren.

Rites will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by Jesse Nutter of the Chester Church of Christ. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Mrs. Mary White

Mrs. Mary Ann White, 91, widow of James W. White, died today at 1:10 a. m. in her home, 663 Walnut St., following a brief illness.

Mrs. White resided in East Liverpool for 15 years. She was a member of the First Methodist Church.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Cora M. Cripps of Columbus; two sisters, Mrs. Lulu Work and Mrs. Elizabeth Suter of East Liverpool, and three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Dawson Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Nellie Hamilton

Mrs. Nellie Mae Hamilton, 69, widow of Jess Hamilton, died Saturday morning at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville.

She was born in Wellsburg, Dec. 24, 1880, a daughter of David and Anna Gilmore. She resided in Empire for the past 13 years, when she was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are four daughters, Miss Delores Hamilton and Mrs. Alex Keenan Jr. of Empire, Mrs. B. A. Moffatt of Brilliant, and Mrs. S. A. Holt of Canton; two sons, Edward Hamilton of Wellsburg, and David Hamilton of Minerva; a sister, Mrs. Chal McIntosh, and a brother, Carl Gilmore, both of East Liverpool, and 15 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday from the Empire church by Rev. George Johnson. Burial will be at Springhill Cemetery, Wellsburg.

Friends may call at the Keenan home in Empire.

Playoffs In AA To Open Tuesday; Columbus 'In'

By The Associated Press

Columbus and St. Paul stood off final day challenges to win places in the American Association playoffs which open tomorrow in Minneapolis and Indianapolis.

The Red Birds split a double-header with second place Indianapolis, winning the opener, 8-5, and losing the second game, 6-1. The split gave Columbus third place in the final standings.

Fourth place St. Paul divided its double-header with last place Kansas City, losing the first game, 9-6, and taking the second, 4-0.

Pennant-winning Minneapolis completed its regular schedule by losing twice to sixth place Milwaukee, 6-5 and 6-4.

Toledo was responsible for keeping Louisville out of the playoffs. The Hens defeated the Colonels, 5-1, in the first half of a schedule twin bill. The second game was called after one and two-thirds innings of scoreless play because of rain. Louisville finished fifth in the pennant race and the Hens seventh.

Plans for the playoffs were announced last night by League President Bruce Dudley.

Minneapolis will be host to Columbus and Indianapolis will be at home for the opener with St. Paul.

In each series, three games will be played at the first park. All other necessary games in the four-out-of-seven series will be played in the other team's park.

When these two series are completed, the winners will meet in another four-out-of-seven series to determine which team will represent the Association in the Little World Series against a team from the International League.

HERE I AM — BACK OF THE IRON CURTAIN — A FUGITIVE FROM THE POLICE, BUT AT LEAST I GOT DIANA SAFELY OUT OF THE COUNTRY FIRST.

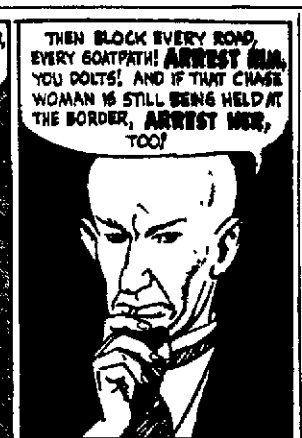

WHAT! THAT YANKEE, SAWYER, TOOK PAPERS FROM THE GATE OF THE FRONTIER OIL LAWYER?

AND WHAT IS MORE, COMMISSAR, HE ASSAULTED A POLICE OFFICER AND ESCAPED.

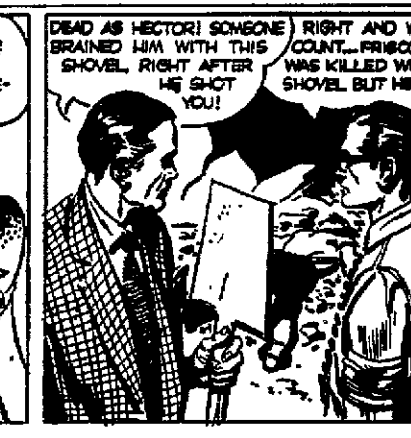

THEN BLOCK EVERY ROAD, EVERY GOATPATH! ARREST HIM, YOU DOOTS! AND IF THAT CHASE WOMAN IS STILL BEING HELD AT THE BORDER, ARREST HER, TOO!

MARSHIE, DID YOU HEAR THAT SHOT? DIP IS OUTSIDE SOMEWHERE. SOMETHING MUST HAVE HAPPENED! COME ON!

DEAD AS HECTOR! SOMEONE SHOT HIM WITH THIS SHOTGUN, RIGHT AFTER HE SHOT YOU!

THE MAN WHO FIRED THE SHOT, THEN KILLED FRIEDO FRITZ, WAS THE MANSLER!

THEN WE'RE STILL IN DANGER! HE CAN'T BE FAR AWAY!

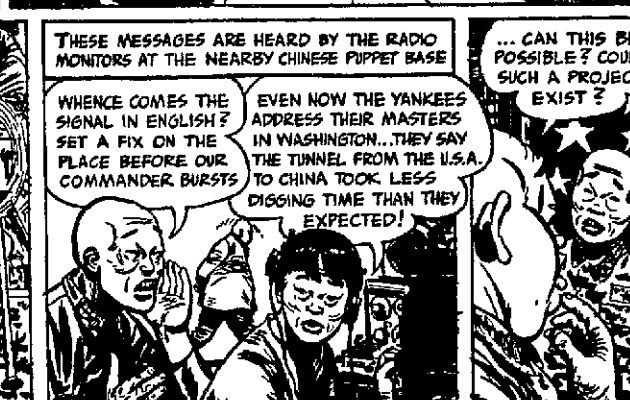

REED KIMBERLY CONTINUES TO PRETEND TO SERGE BLU THAT SOMETHING IS WRONG WITH THE RADIO TRANSMITTER — MEANWHILE — HE CONTINUES TO SEND OUT A SIGNAL FROM THE KEY HIDDEN NEAR HIS FOOT...

THESE MESSAGES ARE HEARD BY THE RADIO MONITORS AT THE NEARBY CHINESE PUPPET BASE

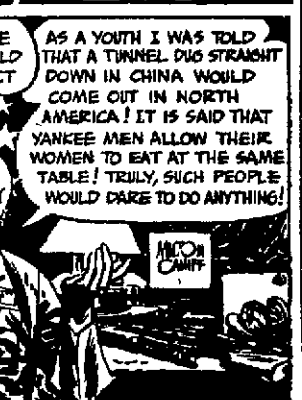

WHENCE COMES THE SIGNAL IN ENGLISH? SET A FIX ON THE PLACE BEFORE OUR COMMANDER BURSTS

EVEN NOW THE YANKEES ADDRESS THEIR MASTERS IN WASHINGTON... THEY SAY THE TUNNEL, FROM THE U.S.A. TO CHINA TOOK LESS MISSING TIME THAN THEY EXPECTED!

... CAN THIS BE POSSIBLE? COULD SUCH A PROJECT EXIST?

AS A YOUTH I WAS TOLD THAT A TUNNEL DUG STRAIGHT DOWN IN CHINA WOULD COME OUT IN NORTH AMERICA! IT IS SAID THAT YANKEE MEN ALLOW THEIR WOMEN TO EAT AT THE SAME TABLE! TRULY, SUCH PEOPLE WOULD CARE TO DO ANYTHING!

Gink the dishwasher hasn't showed this mornin'. Cork.

Hack! I thought we were set for a while.

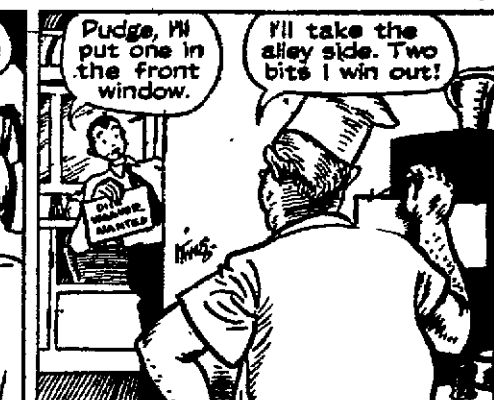

The week-end is a hurdle some of 'em can't clear.

We'll have to hang the signs out again.

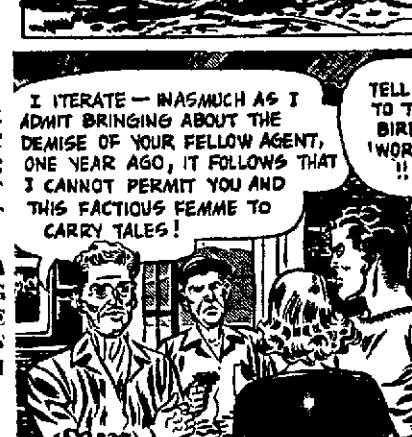

Pudge, I'll put one in the front window.

I'll take the alley side. Two bits I win out!

I ITERATE — WASN'T AS I ADMIT BRINGING ABOUT THE DEATH OF YOUR FELLOW AGENT. ONE YEAR AGO, IT FOLLOWS THAT I CANNOT PERMIT YOU AND THIS FACTIOUS FEMME TO CARRY TALES!

TELL IT TO THE BIRDS, 'WORDS'!!
